The RIDE

Budget: $150,000- 200,000 (Projected)

A coming of Age Family Drama- Rover Hunt confronts his estranged father on a last minute road trip from Paradise to the Concrete Jungle

22 year old Rover Hunt has been trying everything he can do to make it in the big city. He is back at home living with his grandmother while taking a hiatus from college in Miami to pursue an acting career in New York. Rover is out of steady work and college loan officers are threatening to destroy the already shaky family structure. He goes on the ride of a lifetime after he decides to take a 22 hour drive with his estranged father. The two men discover the true meaning of life after confronting their tarnished past.
